AN EMPOWERMENT STRATEGY FOR TODAY’S WORKPLACE

In a national training survey, companies were asked to choose which ranked higher: employee aptitude, including hard skills and technical competencies, or employee attitude, including motivation, commitment, and communication. Nearly 60 percent of respondents ranked attitude as the number one priority. Coping with the continuous changes of today’s downsized, team-oriented, increasingly diverse workplace has left many people confused and fearful. As attitudes deteriorate, so do levels of commitment and performance.

EMPOWER EMPLOYEES TO CHOOSE THEIR OWN ATTITUDES

Adventures in Attitudes® is designed to help people understand that they can choose how to perceive and respond to events around them, and that it’s in their control to change a negative outlook to one that’s positive. By establishing personal responsibility and accountability in the midst of change, individuals learn that passive resistance can be transformed into high-energy performance. Using small-group interaction, shared personal experiences, individual and group exercises, and facilitator-led discussion, Adventures in Attitudes provides a remarkable process for self-discovery.

SAY YES TO ADVENTURES IN ATTITUDES®

It’s easier to say no to changing our attitudes than it is to say yes. But the no’s are simply ways of repeating the past. Saying yes opens up all sorts of new opportunities.
